DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/25/04 has been entered.
2. Claims 22-23, and 25-30 are pending.

Drawings

3. The drawings were received on 10/27/04. These drawings are approved.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re

Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 22, 26-27, and 30 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3-4, 8-10, 17, 25-27, and 32 of copending Application No. 09/875,311. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the processes in both applications are functionally equivalent.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 22 and 26-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hawes et al. (WO 79/48927) in combination with Huebner et al. (3,658,590) new reference and Gordon et al. (6,369,019) new reference.

Hawes et al. disclose a process for cleaning a surface comprising contacting the surface with an aqueous composition, then rinsing the surface with purified water by using a hand held sprayer attached to a garden hose. The reference discloses cleaning painted surfaces such as vehicles. Re claim 22, see page 8, page 10, lines 5-8, the abstract, page 2, line 24- page 3, line 20. Re claims 26-30, see page 4, line 24- page 5, line 15, col. 6, lines 7-19, page 7, lines 3-12, page 10, lines 9-11, line 15, and the document in general.

Hawes et al. do not teach the polymer which renders the surface hydrophilic, and rinsing with tap water as claimed.

Huebner et al. disclose a process for washing a vehicle surface where there is provided a step of providing a tap water rinse between step of contacting the surface with cleaning composition and the step of rinsing the surface with purified rinse water (see col. 8, lines 29-50, col. 1, line 20-col. 2, line 9).

Gordon et al. disclose an aqueous cleaning composition for cleaning surfaces like car exteriors, (see col. 22, lines 56-57), said cleaning composition comprises a polymer and surfactants (see col. 7, lines 31-37, and line 66). The reference discloses that it has been found that when homopolymer or copolymer are added together into a liquid hard-surface cleaning composition, a hydrophilic layer is left on a hard surface cleaned with said composition (see col. 7, lines 10-37, col. 8, lines 12-28)

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the washing process of Hawes et al. to include the tap water rinse step as taught by Huebner et al. for the purpose of conserving the purified/deionized rinse water, and because Hawes et al. disclose that the cleaning composition could be removed by water from any source at any time (see page 10, lines 12-13).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to substitute for the cleaning solution composition of Hawes et al., a cleaning solution/ composition as taught by Gordon et al., since it is deemed to be the substitution of equivalents (see MPEP 2144.06 "SUBSTITUTING EQUIVALENTS KNOWN FOR THE SAME PURPOSE").

8. Claims 23 and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
